I propose that we offer [redacted] the interim superintendent position with our strong support that [redacted] apply for the permanent position in the fall.

[redacted] will know within days/hours whether [redacted] gets the position in [redacted]. It is my belief that a permanent position here would be more preferable to [redacted]. While it would be hard to offer [redacted] a permanent position because it would circumvent a public search, we are all aware of the huge impediments surrounding finding good superintendents in New England. Chances are [redacted] would be our best candidate given a thorough search process.

If we are interested in this we should move quickly.
